

End of the EMR-EYES Project

We've reached the end of the EMR-EYES project and the amount of effort that the partners put into the job to complete it was tremendous. Especially in the last weeks and months. The energy levels and motivation which were displayed were exemplary and led us to reach our goals. This definitely has set up higher standards in the cross-border collaboration and we'd like to thank all partners for making this EMR-EYES project successful.

Of course we can't forget all stakeholders for supporting the ideas and bringing added value to our mission and goals. But let's not see this moment as an end but a start for further collaboration, and extend the cooperation in addition to what has been achieved. Let all initiatives taken and supported by all of us be a starting point to sustain the efforts and strengthen the relations in matters of security.

You will find the contacts of the partners hereunder should you need any information about the achieved results like the scientific studies, the Field Lab, or joining the RAD platform or the ANPR working group, or running collaboration in the EMR issued by the EMR-EYES project.
